Plant Name	Additional Details About Your Plant
Vanda Florida Blues	Easy vanda to grow and bloom. Blooms at young age and can bloom multiple times per year. Is pleasantly fragrant. This is a keiki off the parent which I've had for many years.
Coel imbricata (formerly Pholidata)	Easy grower, grown in filtered to bright light. Blooms every year in Sept/Oct. Blooms last a few weeks
Den Emma White	Blooms 1-2 x a year. Easy grower.
Brassidomesa (Bdm) Golden Stars	Easy grower. Filtered to bright light. Blooms around this time of year.
~~Rlc Blanche Aisaka 'Yuki'~~	~~Large flowers~~
Cty El Hatillo	Grown in filtered to bright light. Flowers in June/July. Easy grower
Oncsa Sweet Sugar 'Lemon Drop'	Blooms twice a year. Grown in bark mix with nice filtered light
Bulb grandiflorum	Blooms Feb/march
Bulb frostii	Cute flowers! Blooms twice a year
Bulb maxillare	Blooms in winter (Jan/Feb)
Brs New Start 'Galaxy'	Easy grower
Ctsm J and R Solar	Fall bloomer
Rth. Momilani Rainbow	Sheathe is forming
Cym. ensifoliium v. alba	Division made and potted Dec'24
Flowers Eunice Bragg	Division made and potted March '25 This division had a multi stem bloom in July'25
Max. tenuifolia	Division made and potted March May '25
Vanda Ploenpit Prize	A beautiful hybrid. (V. Mem. Thianchai x Rhy. giganteal). Blooms in late spring through summer. Pleasant light scent to the flowers when fully open.
Teak baskets and racks	2 baskets (both 7" x 7"), one 7" sq rack and one 5" sq rack. These are made from real teak. Will never rot. So no need for for repotting if you don't want to.
Epidendrum radican 'orange fire star' variety	Growing in a 2 gallon pot. Natures beautiful ground orchid. A plant everyone should have in your yard and collection. Blooms spring through the entire summer.
C White Reception
V. (Neofinetia) falcata (Onamisecai)	Purchased from Andy's Orchids, mounted on 6" section of hardwood branch, 3 fans, blooms annually, fragrant, temperature range 50-90 degrees.
Pot. Burana Beauty 'Burana'	Blooms multiple times per year. In bud!
Cattleya Susan Gerhardt	One of a kind named after our own Susan Gerhardt. You cannot buy this anywhere else. Blooms multiple times per year. Very fragrant.
Blc. Rustic Spots #11	Blooms multiple times per year. Recently repotted.

B. Yaki	Hybrid of Brassavola nodosa x Brassavola cucullata. Mildly fragrant. Blooms multiple times per year.Larger white blooms with soft pink center.
Dendrobium moschatum	A beautiful species specimen.Recently mounted on solid teak slab. Slight musky fragrance. Donated by member-Amy Boyd
Vanda Green Light	Amazingly fragrant. Blooms July-October. Send out multiple bloom spikes for months.
Pda. Odom Delight	Hybrid of Papilionanda Mevr. L. Velthuis × Vanda Rasri Gold. The key influencing species of this hybrid are Vanda sanderiana. Heavily fragrant.
Dendrobium Lim Tee Hooi	Donated by Claudette- an SOS member
Rlc. Golf Green 'Hair Pig'	Large flowered Cattleya hybrid with distinctive frilly petals and lip. Flowers generally pale green throughout, though pink undertones are not uncommon, particularly on the lip. Night/morning fragrant.
Enc Cordigera	Encyclia cordigera is adaptable to varying cultural conditions and makes a good subject for hobbyist orchid collections. Intoxicating fragrance. Donated by Susan Gerhardt
Bc. Hamlyn's Magic	Hybrid of C. Jalapa x B nodosa. vigorous, compact orchid with its striking 3.5″ star-shaped green flowers heavily overlaid with bronze. The bright pink heart-shaped lip with magenta striations is a dramatic focal point. These plants should bloom 2-3 times a year.
Brassanthe Peach Bird	Cattleya Blc Maikai 'Mayumi' x C. Herbert Oesterreich. A nice brassavola-cattleya hybrid with numerous spotted, magenta flowers. Easy to grow, floriferous, and fragrant! Donated by Susan Gerhardt
Dendrobium Show Stopper	Donated by Susan Gerhardt blooms multiple times during the year. Flowers last a long time. The key influencing species of this hybrid are Dendrobium schuetzei x Dendrobium sanderae
Blc. Ruben's Verde 'Lime Sherbert'	Yes, it is a big flower. Seven inches wide vertically and horizontally. Slightly fragrant when the wind blows. Donated by SOS member-Angela
Rlc. Akiko Sato 'Volcano Queen'	Blooms in a cluster of fragrant cinnamon-colored flowers with freckled petal tips and a vibrant pink lip. The colors of the flowers darken over the life-course of the bloom with the red-orange undertones becoming more prominent. Summer-blooming, bifoliate.
Rlc. Sa-Ngob Delight 'Kelrit'
Czl. Amazing 'Everett Jude' AM/AOS	Division of an Award winning plant donated by Susan Gerhardt . Blooms from Aug-February
Oncidium sphacelatum	A species known as the Dancing lady orchid. Donated by SOS member- Remy
Lc. Gold Digger	plant is fragrant, smelling faintly of tangerines in the late morning and early afternoon. Donated by SOS member-Remi. Divisions from her mother plant
Rlc. Grandma June Metcalf	Absolutely stunning large flowers. Fragrant. Divisions from enormous mother plant from SOS member Remi
Cattleya Cypheri	An orchid originating from 1907. Blooms all summer long.
Procatavola Walnut Valley Lime Stars	A progeny of brassavola Key lime stars. This hybrid has yellow blooms -perpetual bloomer all year, night fragrant. Donated by Susan Gerhardt

Brassovola nodosa x self	Multiple divisions donated from Susan Gerhardt's larger mother plant. A species native to Mexico with white blooms. It is also known as "lady of the night" orchid due to its citrus and gardenia-like fragrance which begins in the early evening.
C. Bactia 'Grape Wax'	Division donated by Susan Gerhardt. Can have 10-12 flowers per inflorescence. Stunning flower coloring. Has a spicy, sweet scent.
Lc. Emily Clarkson x Lc Lupaul	A Courtney Hackneau hybrid. Lc Emily Clarkson (dowiana x brigerii) x Lupaul (milleri x schilleriana) - with a red lip and Lupaul is red. These are growing like rupicoleous la‹ expect them to be miniatures. Expect red-yellow flowers on nice stem with red lips. There may also be spotted flowers. Expect lots of variation be seedlings given the parents.
C. nodosa 'Susan Fuchs' FCC/AOS x Rlc Hsinying Anna Hsinying	This cross does not have a registered name as of yet. Plants should bloom at least twice a year.
Rhyncatclia Hsinying Tango	Rhyncatclia Hsinying Tango is an orchid hybrid originated by Ching Hua in 2011. It is a cross of E. tampensis x Rlc. Memorial Gold.
Dendrobium Jodi Anne	An H & R orchid hybrid cross. Expect various flower coloring when guest blooms. The key influencing species of this hybrid are Dendrobium bigibbum var. superbum. Donated by Susan Gerhardt
C. Christian Starr 'Aloha'	orchid hybrid originated by Hawaii Hybrids in 2008. It is a cross of C. Penny Kuroda (Caudebec Group) x C. Memoria Robert Strait.
Dendrobium parishii var. coerulea	These plants are often known as the hand orchid in Thailand, as when the growths are mature and start losing leaves the psedobulbs look like human fingers. The beautiful 1-1.5 inch flowers have white markings with blue eyes in the lip. The fragrance is great with a raspberries and cream scent.
Bulbophylum grandiflorum	A species orchid donated by Cathy Lewis. A truly bizarre large-flowered species Bulbophyllum with 2` bulbs topped with a single 6` paddle shaped leaf are widely spaced on a creeping rhizome, this floriferous plant produces numerous single flowered spikes which emerge from both the base of the bulbs and along the rhizome, the 4` oddly curved and twisted bloom is greenish-yellow mottled brown and very unorchid-like,
Maxillaria-hedwigiae	A species plant donated y Cathy Lewis. very pretty and floriferous, compact clumping plant. attractive 1` lovely creamy flower with spreading lateral sepals, while dorsal sepal and petals form a hood over the column and bright orange lip. Blooms in spring. Very fragrant
Myrmecocattleya Memoria Louise Fuchs	A stunning hybrid donated by Cathy Lewis. the tall, reed-like growth with the rich, bronze-hued flowers . This is a robust plant that produces striking, long-lasting blooms,
Lc. C.G. Roebling var. coerulea 'Beachview'	A beautiful primary hybrid donated by Cathy Lewis. A cross between Cattleya gaskelliana and Laeilia purpurata. The large light blue-white flowers have a nice fragrance and an indigo blue tubular colored lip.
Dendrobium tortile	Dendrobium tortile, "the twisted dendrobium", is native to SE Asia. Tolerates temps from 50-90F, blooms in the late winter and early spring from the upper nodes producing showy, fragrant, purple flowers. This has not bloomed for me, so I don't have an image of the exact flower. The images on the internet vary, the one shown is from Travaldo's blog.

Maxillaria variabilis (yellow)	Maxillaria variabilis, also called the Variable Maxillaria, is native to Central America from Mexico to Panama. They need dispersed moderately bring light but no direct southern sun. It tolerates a temperature range of 45-90 degrees Fahrenheit. The small yellow blooms can appear at various times during the year. No fragrance.
Den. Love Memory 'Fizz'	I love all the Dendrobium nobile hybrids for their temperature tolerance, from 45-95 degrees Fahrenheit, and their ease of care during the cooler months since they need a dry rest with no fertilizer. Love Memory 'Fizz' was one of my first Dendrobium hybrids, and my favorite. The flowers are fairly large, with a subtle fragrance. This plant can get massive with the right care!
Den. Hamana Lake 'Prism'	This is another easy-care dendrobium nobile hybrid. This is a miniature Dendrobium with numerous small, fragrant, colorful blooms.
Encyclia Rioclarense	Encyclia Rioclarense is a hybrid of Encyclia cordigera and Encyclia randii. Grow in bright light with good air circulation and moderate humidity. Allow plant to dry out between waterings. Purchased from Palmer Orchids last year, it hasn't bloomed for me yet. The flower picture is from the internet.
Myrmecophila humboldtii	This plant is native to Venezuela and can grow quite large. It needs full sun to bloom, frequent applications of fertilizer, and abundant water. It hasn't bloomed for me yet, probably since I didn't provide full sun in the summer for fear of burning the leaves. I wish it had, because the blooms are beautiful, but I'm donating it in hopes that it will bloom for someone else!
Dendrobium anosmum	Fragrant, spring-blooming Dendrobium species, native to the Philippines and New Guinea. Typically flowers in March/April. Grow in bright indirect light with good air circulation and moderate to high humidity. Water heavily while plants are in active growth (spring through early fall) but give plants a dry rest during the cooler months. I love this one for the pendant canes, but I have another plant so I'm donating this one so someone else can enjoy!
B. Crazyarachno	sepals and petals light green, reverse minimally speckled burgundy; lip cordate, white, midline thin light green lines; column and anther cap white; substance medium; texture matte. Blloming time fall, in a pot
Tol. Popoki ‘Mitzi’	Division donated by Susan Gerhardt. Known as miniature oncidiums with triangular succulent leaves that form small fan shaped growths and are commonly called equitant oncidiums.
Dendrobium amethysoglossum	Division donated by Susan Gerhardt. the amethyst-colored dendrobium, is a species of orchid endemic to the Island of Luzon in the Philippines. Exotic appeal.
Brassia maculata	Division donated by Susan Gerhardt. Brassia maculata, the spotted brassia, is a species of orchid that is native to southern Mexico. Flowers are a large 5-8”
Broughtonia sanguinea ‘Star Splash’	Division donated by Susan Gerhardt. Mounted on a designer clay totem. successively 5 to 12 flowered inflorescence that if left alone will produce new non-fragrant flower clusters from the apex from spring through late summer.
Epicat. Jackie Bright ‘Paradise’	Donated by David Kennon. Mounted on beautiful Cholla wood. Fragrant yellow Epicatt. Blooms in clusters of yellow flowers with a red throat. Spring blooming.
Fdk Corinne Arnold	Catasetum
Fdk Frank Smith

Cymbidium
finlaysonianum